Broccolo Earth Expo at Cornell Cooperative Extension

The Genesee Dietetic Association participated in an Earth Day Event on Saturday April 17th at Cornell Cooperative Extension of Monroe County. This free event for Monroe County residents featured guest speakers, educational exhibits, food and children's activities on recycling and going green. The Genesee Dietetic Association volunteers answered nutrition related questions and promoted eating food from the ground up. Joan Panepinto was interviewed by Michael Warren Thomas local chef and radio host promoting the Genesee Dietetic Association and the role of the Registered Dietitian. Three hundred and fifty attendees participated in this event and 25 vendors.

Special thanks to our volunteers who participated in this program:

Heather Fiore, Kathy Ippolito, Susan Figaro Grace, Elissa Strassman, Danielle Pacella, Joan Panepinto, Rebecca Moore and Nancy Coughlin.
